Koda Farms

In the late 40's, Koda Farms was the first commercial grower of Sweet Rice (Sho-Chiku-Bai) in California and developed the American market for this rice & flour (Mochiko). About 10 years later, they created the original variety of medium sushi rice called "Kokuho Rose" which is now a registered trade mark to Koda Farms. This rice was created specifically for their micro-climate & soil type. Koda Farms is the sole grower of this proprietary strain. This is why it is so different, unique & superior from taste to appearance. Kokuho Rose is legendary in the food industry and Diamond K flour is made from the brokens. Third generation family owned & operated in the Central Valley. All products are non-GMO and kosher certified. South Dos Palos, California

McCann's

Known as the finest oatmeal in the world because the temperature, humid climate of Ireland promotes the slow ripening of the grain. Watered by some of Europe's cleanest rivers, these oats draw their goodness from the rich soil and yield a crop with fuller, plumper grains. Always Non-GMO. Farmed from the counties of Kildare and Meath in Ireland.

Quaker

For over 130 years, Quaker has been a symbol of good quality and honest value. Non-GMO.

Corn Flour—made from dried corn, milled very fine into flour. Do not sub corn flour for corn meal.

Corn Meal—made from dried corn, milled fine, medium or coarse. Traditionally stone-ground which makes the corn meal more nutritious by leaving some of the hull and germ of the kernel. It also has a higher fat content that makes it more perishable. Most corn meal is now ground by steel rollers which removes most of the husk and germ.

Grits—originally made from dried white corn, cooked with lime, dried and ground coarse (i.e. “cured”). Now more generally manufactured as a more coarsely ground corn meal.

Masa Flour—made from hominy (dried, cooked corn with added lime).

Polenta—a dish that you make with medium or coarse ground yellow corn meal. If a corn meal has the word “polenta” in the description, it generally means it is coarse grain size, ideal for this dish.

Sugar Grain Size in Microns

Beet Sugar—we do not stock any beet sugar, only Cane.

Brown Sugar—white sugar that has the molasses added back.

Demerara Sugar—large grain Turbinado.

Natural Sugar—sugar that includes the original molasses in varying degrees of color, flavor and texture.

Turbinado = Evaporated Cane = Evaporated Cane Juice—these all “natural” sugars with the differences being in color, size and flavors. These terms are not regulated and are very different from brand to brand.

White Sugar—processed sugar that has all the molasses removed. Pure white.

Vegan Sugar—all “Wholesome Sweetener’s” brand sugars are vegan. Organic sugar is also vegan.

Decoding Maple Syrup Grades

OLD Name: fancy, medium or dark amber A, dark am-ber, C

BiRITE stocks “Amber A” which is a little more flavorful and works well in cooking and baking.
#529012 Maple Grove, 4/1 gallon

SUGAR GLOSSARY

AA Confectioner's Crystals (special order)—size 1100 microns—large grain size, clear crystal. Ideal for toppings, baked goods. Not to be confused with "confectionary" or powered sugar.

Agave (various #)—Agave syrup is the same as agave nectar. Raw has not been pasteurized or heated. Though the syrup can come from several species of agave, the Blue is the most popular. Light is golden to amber and heated to about 151 degrees for a short time; whereas Dark is heated to 116 degrees for a longer period of time resulting in a deeper darker color.

Bakers Special (various #)—size 100 microns—super fine sugar with superior dispersion characteristics. Also known as Castor, Bar, Superfine or Ultrafine Sugar.

Brown Golden C (various #)—size 150 microns—stays soft & pliable on the shelf, even when temperatures are high. Boiled medium brown sugar with a rich molasses flavor and small uniform crystals.

Brown Yellow D (various #)—size 150 microns—dark brown with extra rich molasses flavor. Boiled, small uniform crystals.

Cane Syrup (Lyle's #527855, 16 lb)—100% cane sugar, by product of making granulated sugar. Excellent alternative for corn syrup. Smooth butterscotch flavor, excellent for pecan & pumpkin pies.

Décor AA Polished (C&H #526921, 25 lb)—sugars that are used as garnish and/or won't melt. Also "A", Snow Sugar = Sucre Neige and Sucre Grain = Pearl Sugar.

Demerara (various#)—size typically 1200 microns. Perfect as a garnish for cookies, pies and even crème brulee. Minimally processed sugar with golden hues & large crystals. Similar to Turbinado but with larger crystals.

Flos (special order)—sugar especially formulated for cotton candy machines.

Glucose syrup #21535 & #21536—invert type sugars but not necessarily substitutes for "inverted sugar" like trimoline in a recipe.

Granulated White Cane (various #)—size 200 microns—fine crystal, general purpose sugar. Natural or organic cane is non-gmo and slightly blond in color. (Beet sugar is generally GMO if from the US).

Invert Sugar—like trimoline used to prevent or control crystallization & increase shelf life. Sweeter than glucose. Honey can sometimes be used as a substitute.

Muscovado (special order)—minimally processed. Made before molasses is taken out of sugar production processes. Deep dark brown in color. The term comes from the Spanish word mascavado meaning lowest quality because it was less refined and considered inferior in the late 18th and early 19th century. Can be special ordered.

Powdered Sugar (various #)—size 50 microns—micro-pulverized sugar formulated with 3% cornstarch to prevent caking. Ideal for icings, dustings & frostings. Organic turns slightly grey, making it less suitable for white icings.

Sanding Special (special order)—size 750 microns—medium size decor, clear polished crystal grain ideal for sanding cookies.

Sucanut (special order) - size n/a. Unrefined. Large grains made by crushed sugar cane, extracting the juice & heating/reducing the juice to a rich, dark syrup, then cooled & dried to granulars. Dark color and distinct molasses flavor with healthy trace minerals. Also known as Rapadura, Jaggery & Panela. Some forms sold in cakes. Sucanet is a branded name.

Turbinado (various #)—size 750 microns (C&H) up to 1200 microns (Wholesome Sweeteners)—crystallized from clarified cane juice—"Sugar in the Raw". Light brown, large crystal with a mild molasses flavor. Golden colored raw cane sugar with large crystals. Minimally processed similar to Demerara but with smaller crystals.

SPECIAL ORDER

Mieli Thun—raw, monofloral honeys from the Italian Alps

Andrea Paternoster is a nomadic beekeeper and a rock star of sorts in Europe for his honeys. He took his grandfather's good local honey business started in the 1920's and has made it into one of the most revered in the world today. Exceptional honey is his passion.

Concentrating on raw monofloral (single flower) honeys, like the unexpected flavors of coriander & dandelion. Every year the hives are moved to the different blooms in the area, gathering monofloral honeys & honeydews, following Mother Nature's rhythms and ways. Depending on the varietal, the honey may stay clear longer; however, the real delight is enjoying a naturally crystalized honey whether it be with cheese, on grilled meats, with grilled vegetables or even in cooking or baking. Enjoy the unique perfumes, flavors and textures. Organic by nature, NON-GMO—Alps, Italy. (See next page for all varietals available as special order).

Mieli
Thun

Acacia \(Acacia\) Raw Italy\*\* - Very light in color and super clear. Soft & silky taste, aroma of white flowers with a hint of vanilla and sweet almonds. Rich in fructose, sweet & moisture absorbing. Superb as a glaze for tarts or pies and excellent in candying fruits & vegetables. Compliments goat and blue cheeses. Region: Levico Terme (TN) - Montello (TV).

Alfafa aka Alfa Alfa \(Erba Medica\) Raw Italy\*\* - Exceptional for nougat, jelly and candy making. Very interesting color—white and creamy. Produced between July and August, this simple crystallized honey has notes of soft, vegetable and hay. The nose resembles cut grass and the cellar. Taste is medium sweet and lightly acidic. Region: Porto Tolle, Polesine—Rovigo.

Alpine Flower \(Fiori Delle Alpi\) Raw Italy\*\* - Produced in July and August, the different nectar origins give this “meditation” honey an amber color, sometimes darkened by the presence of melates, a net smell of ink and cooked artichokes, and a taste, elegant but decisive in, among all the sensations, stand out china and rhubarb; of a little sweetness has a long final that, with great harmony, closer the circle of all the senses involved. Superb with yogurt. Region: Brenta Dolomites—Trento.

Apple Blossom \(Melo\) Raw Italy\*\* - Rare honey. Light creamy color. Aroma of apple cider, grass sap, musk & baked Reinette apple. Medium sweet taste with floral & herbaceous fragrance, thistle & boiled artichoke aftertaste. This honey would be fantastic for tanning pork roast and roasted game, in a salad dressing with wild herbs, finish to risotto, and also on a cheese course with fresh apples. Region: Tres, Val di Non—Trento.

Chestnut \(Castaño\) Raw Italy\*\* - Aroma of dried chamomile fragrance, tea-like & woody, earthy tones. Taste is bitter, slightly tangy, woody and smoky with slight notes of cocoa beans. Harvested from the end of June and the first half of July from wild mountain chestnut flowers, this honey is extraordinarily versatile and is the richest in minerals. Magnificent mixed with fresh ricotta or in a persimmon mousse. Wonderful with smoked food or the filling of pumpkin ravioli, and also with ricotta and aged cheeses like Parmigiano Reggiano. Region: Novaledo, Borgo Valsugana, Trento.

Eucalyptus \(Eucalipto\) Raw Italy\*\* - Produced in July. This honey has a strong personality. Color is amber or light hazel. Smells of licorice, sometimes very smoky and slightly salty flavor with notes of dulce de leche. Medium sweetness, very intense and persistent with references to umami and caramel. Try with roasted vegetables and to finish risotto! Region: Policoro, Metaponto—Matera.

Forest Honeydew aka Honey in the Forest \(Bosco\) Raw Italy\*\* - Great as a sweetener in teas and coffee; perfect for mulled wine. Produced between July and August. Very dark amber color with opaque reflexes from red to brown. The smell is strong with spices such as black pepper, juniper berries and cloves. The taste is marked with cooked vegetables, carob, rhubarb and licorice. Not sweet but leaves a behind the taste of baked cane sugar. Ideal for sweet and savory applications. Rich in potassium. Region: Valley of Ticino—Pavia.

French Honeysuckle \(Sulla\) Raw Italy\*\* - Very light in color, creamy. Hints of flowers & herbaceous fragrance, hay/dry grass. Delicately sweet, light overtones of green pulses, straw & fresh walnut hull. Naturally balanced between salty, sweet & acid. Amazing as “food” for yeast in bread—especially sour dough; making it softer, fragrant and brown. Often used in making hard nougat. Region: Nocera—Cosenza.

Ivy Flower \(Edera\) Raw Italy\*\* - For tanning BBQ with pepper, vinegar and EVOO! Produced between September and October. This honey has a very high concentration of glucose which results in fast crystallization while still in the comb; therefore requiring a small window to harvest. Honey color of gray with green iridescences; pungent notes of cinnamon; and a sweet, toasted, herbaceous aftertaste with a pepper finish. Region: Lake Garda—Verona.

Lime Tree aka Linden \(Tiglio\) Raw Italy\*\* - Not related to lime fruit trees. Wonderful for all teas, especially herbal teas and flower infusions. Produced at the end of June, by the flower of the noble tiglio plant. This white crystallized honey has beautiful golden reflections. The scent is fresh, menthol, with an intense aroma of fresh spices, medium sweetness and long persistence, evokes fresh walnut, lime and sage. Very interesting for cheese plates. Region: Valsugna—Trento.

Miellefiori \(Wild Flower\) Raw Italy\*\* - Vintage variables. Produced between Spring and Summer. Excellent as an all around honey and for garnishing cakes, ice cream and pannacotta. Intense golden color with orange reflections. The nose has clear formal notes and candied fruit. Region: Tuscany

Orange Blossom \(Arancio\) Raw Italy\*\* - Fragrant, along with notes of fresh flowers, honeysuckle, hawthorn & ripe melon. Excellent for pastry & wheat pasta. Characteristically acidic. Region: Pianura Metapontina—Matera.

Sunflower \(Girasole\) Raw Italy\*\* - Wonderful enhancement to vegetable soups and savory stocks. Produced between the end of June and July. This crystallized honey is rich in glucose. Unmistakably intense, warm yellow color (like an egg yolk). Delicate aroma of pollen, wet hay, pineapple and passion fruit. Hints of green tomato, juniper and ripe apricot. Region: Hills of Jesi—Ancona.

Thistle \(Cardo\) Raw Italy\*\* - Perfect for rich sauces and mayonnaise. Produced between June and July. When liquid, this honey has yellow reflections of the sun, which change to light hazelnut color...when the honey crystallizes, it bouquet is of geranium, rose and chrysanthemum. The flavor is fruity and slightly astringent flavor. Region: Madonie Mountains, Palermo.

Tree of Heaven \(Albero del Paradiso\) Raw Italy\*\* - Called Tree of Heaven because of its height, reaching 50 ft in 25 years. Excellent with roasted nuts or to caramelize fruit. Produced in May. This honey is fairly delicate and remains liquid for a long time. Golden yellow color loaded with amber reflections. Taste under ripe moscato. Region: Low Garda Veronese.

See www.mielithun.com for more honey information.

Not sure which type of gelatin sheet to use? Go for silver. When the recipe calls for SHEETS, you can interchangeably use gold, silver or bronze with a very similar result; 5 sheets = 5 sheets. However, if the recipe calls for GRAMS of gelatin sheets but makes no mention of grade, that can be tricky—see chart above. Converting sheets to powder? No problem, simply 1 teaspoon of powdered gelatin is about equal to 1 sheet of silver (1 envelope = 1 tablespoon = 3 sheets). While powdered (unflavored) gelatin is convenient, it generally does not produce a crystal clear product like sheets do. Not sure how much gelatin to use in your NEW recipe? Generally 6 sheets are for 1/2 liter liquid; 4 sheets for 1/2 liter of crèmes containing eggs products.

Pectin is a gelling agent from plants, mainly extracted from citrus fruits and apples. Pectin is a soluble dietary fiber that binds to cholesterol in our gastrointestinal tract and helps slow glucose absorption by trapping carbohydrates.

Apple Pectin— is used to stabilize/thicken jams, jellies, paté de fruit, etc. There are different types of pectin for different applications. Pure apple pectin (also known as yellow pectin) is the most common and universal in the pastry kitchen. It has a slow set, and spreadable gel texture. Once set, it cannot be reversed or melted.

Thermoreversible Pectin—also known as NH, NR or TR. It can be set, melted and set again. Meant for low sugar items. Set time is longer and is best for sauces or clear jellies where particle suspension is not important.

Chocolate

Couverture: Very high quality chocolate containing at least 32% cocoa butter. Cocoa butter is the most expensive ingredient in chocolate! Ideal for enrobing chocolate.

Michel Cluizel —"mini grammes"

Craftsmanship—that is the one word that describes Michel Cluizel chocolate from Normandy, France. For three generations, the Cluizel family has meticulously and lovingly manufactured their exquisite line of chocolate in Damville, Normandy.

They have been free and fair trade from the start and always NON-GMO. With direct (they do not purchase commodity beans) sustainable relations with cocoa planters, they have been able control quality and natural taste. Beans are fermented according to a skillfully controlled technique, at the farmer's premises.

Their "single plantation" chocolates are from very small plots of land not large geographic areas. Each one has unique and subtitle flavors, specific to the terroir. Their "Elianza" blends are a combination of all 9 single origins.

Only the best and most authentic ingredients go into their chocolate - cane sugar, whole vanilla beans and NO soy. And, they do not use any lecithin in any of their single plantation chocolates. Manufacturer of all chocolate is done at the Cluizel factory.

Their unique "grammes" size coin (4 pieces per gram) is a major innovation for the Professional as they melt quickly and allow more precise measuring, as well as make tempering, seeding and blending easier.

This line is unique and not widely distributed—BiRITE is their only West Coast distributor. Though not as well known in the US as other high-end French chocolate companies, Michel Cluizel is a well-known and respected by the best pastry chefs around the world.

Let us introduce this line to you! Normandy, France.

Callebaut —"callets"

Established in Belgium in 1911, then merged with Cacao Barry in 1996 to become Barry-Callebaut. The staple chocolate brand in most culinary schools because the chocolate brand is readily available and well priced all over the world. Known as "the world's biggest chocolatier". Slab chocolate is manufactured in Belgium whereas the coins (callets) are made in the US.

Ghirardelli —"drops"

Incorporated in 1852, Ghirardelli is the third oldest chocolate company in the US. Though local favorite Ghirardelli is mostly known for its Sweet Cocoa Mix and Wrapped Chocolate Squares, Ghirardelli actually is a great source for cookie drops. Their professional range is worth notice. While most manufacturers semi-sweet drops are about 44% cocoa, Ghirardelli's are 45%, 55% and 60%. Additionally, their 100% cocoa powders range from 15-17% up to 20-22%, in bulk, at a great value.

What is the difference between DUTCH and NATURAL cocoa powder?

Cocoa powder is made from chocolate minus the cocoa butter, ground fine. If the recipe does NOT say which type, you can generally sub Natural for Dutch, but not the other way around. If the recipe calls for baking soda, then use Natural, if it lists baking powder, then use Dutch.

For ice cream & sorbet, regular chocolate is best because you will get the smoothest product versus having a slightly sandy texture left on your pallet.

Dutch Process (aka Alkalized)—cocoa beans are washed with a potassium solution to neutralize acidity, making them darker. The flavor however, is a little mellower. Typical pH level is between 7 (the same as water). Pairs with Baking POWDER.

Natural Process—cocoa beans that have been roasted, then made into powder. All organic cocoa powder is “natural”. Generally lighter in color and fruitier tasting. Typical pH level is 5-6. Pairs with Baking SODA.

Scharffen Burger —”squares”

Once the local darling who helped start the wave of new American chocolate back in 1996. Now owned located in Illinois and owned by Hershey. Still a staple in most local retailers and many professional kitchens too. Sold in “square” pieces.

Cacao Barry —”pistoles”

Started in 1842 by Charles Barry who personally sourced beans in Africa for his French chocolate company. In 1971, Cacao Barry partnered with world famous pastry chef Gaston Lenôte then becoming the first brand to offer support to professionals. Known for its quality and consistency. Available in “pistoles” coins. France

Social RESPONSIBILITY

Producing the finest quality pure vanilla products has always been a core value of Nielsen-Massey; however, making the world a better place to live ranks even higher. As one of the first companies to introduce an organic and fair trade vanilla from Madagascar, we are committed to programs that promote sustainable environmental practices and which enable farmers to earn a successful livelihood in countries where poverty is common. As part of this sustainability commitment, Nielsen-Massey has taken a leadership role in improving the overall health of the vanilla industry, with a particular emphasis on improving economic prospects for the farmers who make the industry possible. Through Initiatives such as strengthening security for growers, preventing the harvest of immature beans, improving the professionalism of the industry and encouraging the use of proper curing and farming methods, Nielsen-Massey is playing an important role in strengthening the supply chain and making vanilla a more sustainable crop.

Brick Dough or Feuille de Brick—is a frozen wheat crepe ideal for Beggar's purses, spring rolls, blintzes, pastry cups, decorations and more! Thaw at room temperature for 15 minutes. Cover with damp cloth while working to prevent drying and cracking. Fill and bake, or fry. Much easier to work with than filo dough. Each pack has 10 sheets, separated by parchment paper. A master case as 1000 sheets, or 100 packs; we sell by the unit which is a 1/4 case (25 packs x 10 sheets each).

Heritage of Delifrance

The best of the French Breakfast Pastries

Delifrance presents its Heritage range!

The exceptional Puff Pastry

A characteristic appearance: visible and attractive layering.
Superior crispiness and softness.

Unique baking know-how

A long milling heritage (Grands Moulins de Paris).
Made in France with sourdough: a process with long resting phases that treats the dough gently. Advanced technology, unrivalled in Europe, which reproduces the artisan baker's techniques.

Made with noble and sustainable ingredients

The selection of premium ingredients:

Fine butter, French wheat flour, and cane sugar.

Clean Label, sustainable recipes:

Label Rouge, free-range eggs,
sustainable chocolate,
few additives, and no artificial colors or flavors.

Preserves Bulk

Maison de Monaco

These preserves are made locally here in San Francisco's Dog Patch using traditional French recipes and cooked at low heat in copper kettles. Made only of three ingredients—70% fruit, cane sugar and pectin. These preserves are "clean" and all natural. Since there are no preservatives, product comes frozen and has a 30 day shelf life refrigerated.

The unique secondary flavor is just a subtle suggestion that highlights the main fruit while offering something different. These preserves can be used on the table, as cake or cookie fillings as well as stuffed in baked pastries. Since these preserves do not contain starches and gums like commercial "bake-proof" jams (20-40% fruit), when baked, they will run slightly making for a more artisanal product.

There is nothing like these jams from Maison de Monaco!

Trending—Butterfly Pea Flower

Butterfly pea flower tea is a caffeine-free herbal tea, or tisane, beverage made from a decoction or infusion of the leaves of the Clitoria ternatea plant. The ternatea is also known as butterfly-pea, blue-pea, Aprajita, Cordofan pea or Asian pigeonwings. Derived from a plant that is common to most South East Asian countries, butterfly pea flower tea has been brewed for centuries, but only recently been introduced to tea drinkers outside the indigenous area. Butterfly pea flower tea retains many of the medicinal properties, as well as extracting the deep blue color of the petals that has made the plant a popular dye for centuries.

One neat trick of the steeped dried flowers is that the liquid changes color based on the pH level of the substance added to it. For instance, adding lemon juice, tonic or any acid to the tea will turn it purple.

There are so many exciting ways to use it too—Blue Ice Tea or Lemonade, Blue/Matcha drinks, Blue Rice, Blue Velvet Cake or even Blue Surf Cake!

We stock it two ways—pure (it has a slight edamame taste) or blended with jasmine tea. Either way you get a gorgeous blue color—hot or cold brewed. You can even reuse it a second time.

Trending—Matcha Powder

Matcha is everywhere and not just in beverages! Ice cream, cookies, cakes, truffles, rice and more! Though Matcha has as much caffeine as coffee, it gives a less jittery buzz that lasts longer. It's important to store the Matcha in a dark sealed container, in a cool location, so that it does not oxidize, affecting the color.

Matcha is a traditional Japanese green tea powder produced by stone-milling a shade-grown green tea called tencha into a fine powder. The quality of matcha greatly depends on the tea bush cultivar, shading technique and picking standard used to produce tencha. Matcha has a rich cultural tradition as the tea prepared and revered during chanoyu—the mindful, artistic, Zen-inspired Japanese Tea Ceremony. Matcha is unique among teas in that when we drink matcha, we consume fresh green tea leaf itself, ground and whisked up into an energizing, refreshing bowl.

There are many types of Matcha powder, but basically there is “barista” and “culinary”. Barista is the go-to for café style drinks, it is the best quality, second flush matcha. Culinary matcha is ideal for cooking and is less expensive. Think of barista as extra virgin olive oil and culinary as pure olive oil. We stock both options:

What is “Baker’s Percentage”?

Baker’s Percentage is a calculation that allows you to increase a dough recipe, while maintaining the correct ratios. In short, you cannot just double or triple a dough recipe and hope that it comes out correctly. According to the Bread Bakers Guild of America (www.bbga.org), it is critical to understand and respect these formulas to have a successful outcome.

Flour is always 100% and the weight of each other ingredient is a percentage of the flour weight. It’s really easy! The recipe must be in weight (not in volume). If you have a recipe with more than one flour, just add up the weights of the flours to make that your 100% base.

EXAMPLE: STRAIGHT DOUGH with one type of flour

Total Dough Weight (TDW) 16.300 KG

TOTAL FORMULA

Ingredients	%	Kilograms
Flour	100%	10 kg
Water	60%	6 kg
Salt	2%	.2 kg
Yeast	1%	.1 kg
TOTALS	163%	16.30 KG

CHOCOLATE BLOOM

Chocolate bloom is a white powdery surface due to fat bloom or sugar bloom. This problem is due to incorrect storage of chocolate; either too warm or too cold. Fat bloom occurs when cocoa butter either does not crystallize properly or undergoes a phase transition when stored in warm or humid conditions. Fat bloomed chocolate feels 'oily' or 'greasy' due to surface layer of fat. Fortunately, fat bloom can be reversed by either tempering the chocolate or using it in a baked good where the chocolate will be warmed or cooled in similar way of the tempering process.

Sugar bloom occurs when sugar dissolves in surface moisture and recrystallizes, so do not store unwrapped chocolate in the fridge. Sugar-bloomed chocolate feels 'grainy' due to sugar deposits on the surface. Most importantly, sugar bloom is irreversible, so sugar-bloomed chocolate cannot be fixed (though you may be able to salvage it in a brownie recipe).

Chocolate with low cocoa butter content (like 32%) will have less than high cocoa butter content couvertures. If the chocolate is being used in baking (either as a chip or melted into the recipe) the quality won't be affected. If you are making molded truffles, the chocolate will need to be tempered again.
